

Women in Finance Workshop

November, 18 2019

Open Call for Papers

Frankfurt am Main, Germany

The Center for Advanced Studies on the Foundation of Law and Finance at Goethe-University is organizing the second Women in Finance Workshop.

The aim of the workshop is to highlight female role models in finance, law and related disciplines and to provide an opportunity for more junior researchers to receive feedback on their research and careers.

The workshop will be followed by a panel discussion on “How to get tenure (as a female)?”. The workshop will be held at the House of Finance, Frankfurt, Germany.

DEADLINE FOR SUBMISSION: December, 20 2019

WORKSHOP EVENT: March 30, 2020

EVENT LOCATION: House of Finance, Goethe University, Frankfurt, Germany

CONFIRMED SPEAKER(S):

Renée Adams (Saïd Business School, University of Oxford)

Susan Christoffersen (University of Toronto)

Jill E. Fisch (University of Pennsylvania)

Nicola Fuchs-Schündeln (Goethe-University Frankfurt)

Katja Langenbacher (Goethe-University Frankfurt)

ORGANIZER(S):

Center for Advanced Studies Foundation of Law and Finance, Goethe-University Frankfurt

Christine Laudenbach (Goethe-University Frankfurt)

Rainer Haselmann (Goethe-University Frankfurt)

Tobias Tröger (Goethe-University Frankfurt)

WORKSHOP FORMAT: We will have 6 presentations of non-tenured researchers, which are discussed by senior participants, and a panel discussion. Each presenter will have 30 minutes to present her paper, followed by a 15-minute discussion.

PAPER SUBMISSIONS: We will consider papers from all areas of finance, including topics at the intersection with law. We encourage submissions from junior researchers. Papers that are at an early stage (but completed) will receive priority.

To submit a paper, please send an email to women@finance.uni-frankfurt.de (with attached PDF including author(s) information, and indication of the name of the presenting author).

TRAVEL EXPENSES: All reasonable travel expenses (up to 500 € for flights within Europe and 1500 € for intercontinental flights) of presenters and discussants will be covered. For additional information about the workshop, you can contact the organizers.
